Gulf Racing Fuels Named Official Fuel of the World Racing League for the 2015 Season

WRL matches Gulf Racing Fuels to its endurance race cars

(HOUSTON, TX and INDIANAPOLIS, IN) December 11, 2014 – Today, from the 27th annual Performance Racing Industry trade show in Indianapolis, Indiana, Gulf Racing Fuels announced that the World Racing League (WRL), a nationwide, class-based endurance racing series, has selected Gulf Racing Fuels as the official fuel for its 2015 races. Gulf will provide track-side fuel delivery to all classes of race cars from Gulf's line of six racing fuels.

WRL's 2015 schedule begins with the American Sports Car Challenge at NCM Motorsports Park in Bowling Green, KY on March 14th. At this race and others throughout the season, the WRL expects its competitors to appreciate the new and unique high octane unleaded racing fuels produced by Gulf Racing Fuels, especially since Gulf Racing Fuels' MACH unleaded fuels have the highest octane of any national brand.

WRL President Joey Todd said, "Adding Gulf Racing Fuels' national brand to our current sponsors like Hawk Performance and OMP gives our competitors a better racing experience, and reinforces the fact that they are in a serious and competitive racing environment. I cannot tell you how much our competitors enjoy working with our sponsors and placing these well-known names on their race cars. Nowhere else can racing enthusiasts get such support and recognition."

About Gulf Racing Fuels

The "legend is back." Gulf Racing Fuels has returned to the track with its new racing fuels designed for the legendary vintage and historic racing cars as well as the latest racing and street cars. Gulf Racing Fuels include high octane unleaded and leaded fuels as well as marine and small engine fuels featuring Isobutanol. All fuels are distributed nationally by HYPERFUELS based in Houston, Texas.
